IT'S A HIT!

Bottom of the 10th, two outs, bases loaded, and the league's best hitter is at the plate. Will he take your screw ball downtown? Or will you blow him away with your awesome fast ball? Find out when you play Extra Innings, the amazing new baseball game for Super NES.

Select your starting lineup based on who's hot and who's not. With Extra Innings, you call the shots and control the action: the spin on the curve ball, your batter's slugging power, even your player's dive for a shot up the middle.

When you play Extra Innings, you can put on a hit and run, take a long lead off first, or nail a base runner at the plate on a sacrifice fly. Play like the pros as you fight for a 12-team league pennant. And remember, statistics are updated and available on every player. You even select the stadium — air dome, midsize, or high-walled. Every choice changes the game.

There's never been a baseball game like Extra Innings. Eight different playing options, including two-player mode and all-star team competition, make this the hit of the season. Extra Innings. It's a home run!

Hey, Bill & Ted!

EDITOR: Fabian Nicieza ASST. EDITOR: Evan Skolnick

Attention Correspondent-Dudes: All letters considered for publication must include your name and address, though we will withhold that info upon request!

Welcome, excellent readers, to yet another totally non-non-non-non-non-heinous BILL & TED letters page!

As we mentioned last month, those of you interested in joining the Bill & Ted fan club can contact Linda Kay, the most excellent founder and president of Bill & Ted's Outstanding Past and Future Appreciation Society. Her address is P.O. Box 4769, San Dimas, CA 91773. Yes, that's the real San Dimas, believe it or not, dudes!

This month's letters page is guest-hosted by Colonel Myron Oats of the Oats Military Academy of Alaska, who has been the subject of constant threats concerning Ted's future —

Hey — Hey!! Listen, you lily-livered conch-nosed sorry excuse for an editor, we agreed no first names! I'm just Colonel Oats, got that? None of this "Myron" *&%#! Or I walk right now, you pimply-faced sack of —

All right, all right, Colonel, we apologize! (Sheesh--seems to be a habit where these characters are concerned. . .) Now, if you would kindly. . .?

That's better, you limp-wristed puddle of pus! Here's our first correspondent. . .

Bill, Ted,

We. . .we love you.

Hey, swivey writer/drawer guy, the job you are doing is most excellent. But, one word of advice, please, don't go the way of the Flintstones or Charlie Brown. You have got to give these two truly important dudes some new clothes. A different T-shirt every week just isn't gonna cut it. I realize they're on a tight budget, but they're gonna change the world — they should be able to change their pants, too. At least three or four different outfits for each of 'em. It's the least you could do, I mean, what do they wear on laundry day?

And, if for some reason this is impossible, how about a swivey green lace for Ted? (That's one green shoelace in the right shoe. It's very Bill & Ted on the West Coast at the moment.)

Quit yer belly-achin', you shifty-eyed pathetic unshaven herbivores! In the military you'd wear green laces every day! They'd match every other article of camouflage green clothing draped on your worthless, scrawny frames — and I would teach you to love it!

Hey Bill & Ted,

Whoa! Talk about a "Station Break!" BILL & TED #4 was the best so far. I like what Ted said on page 16: "Station has so many brains he's a total imbecile!" Keep it up, dudes!

I totally enjoyed the cover, too. I feel kind of sorry for the mini-Station inside the Reaper's mouth. . .NOT! What would happen if the Station ate too many burritos. . .would he be a 'gas station'?

What's with Mr. Potato Head & the Nutcracker? Are they going to manage Bill & Ted now? I'm confused. Are Bill & Ted going to meet Dr. Who now?

I'm not knocking your excellent comic, but some things have to be explained a little more. And this 'Thumb' dude, what's his beef? Is he trying to help or hinder Bill & Ted?

Is this some kind of 'rule of Thumb'? We'll figure it out next time. Maybe in the future. I'll keep looking forward to the next issue.

Oh, a funny guy, eh? Well, I know how to handle your type, you pitiful, flabby little moron! You think you're so funny, huh? How does cleaning the latrine with your own bellybutton lint sound, Private? IS THAT FUNNY ENOUGH FOR YOU?!

Dear Bill & Ted,

Hey, dudes, I'm Mike. I have the Nintendo game Bill & Ted's Excellent Game. The movie is EXCELLENT and I have the toys too.

I like Terminator better. . .NOT!

Mike Goodpaster

What, are you crazy, you weak-kneed craven little worm?! You like those two spineless, brainless, clueless cups of spit more than the one-man army that is Arnold Schwarzenegger?!

Yo Bill & Ted,

I think your comic book and movie was most triumphant. If you get the Grim Reaper let me know.

I think you are excellent. Now why don't you take karate?

Chris Kovach
Avon, OH

Finally, someone with cajones! Did you hear that, Bill & Ted, you bug-eyed spotty little buckets of bile?!

Yo, Bill & Ted.

How's it hangin', dudes? Hey, congratulations on your wedding (you picked the best babes!). A question: why doesn't Station build girlfriends for the good robot you's?

You guys are really cool. Tell Death I've been practicing on my Battleship!

Azeem Sajid
22 Cumberland Pl.
Valley Stream NY 11580

You — you have your own battleship?! C-could I maybe, you know, come over sometime, and, uh. . .play on it?

NEXT MONTH:

It's back to the future for Bill & Ted, when one of Rufus's students asks the dudes to help him on his history final!

Sound familiar? It should. . .but something's not quite kosher with this temporal trip — and it's going to be up to our two favorite dudes to set things straight!

So be here for "Bob Spelled Backwards. . ." in 30 days!
